Spotty Frost Visits Valley During Night

The first real frost of the season hit spots of Magic Valley Thursday night and Friday morning while other localities escaped with relatively mild temperatures.

Ketchum had a cool 29 degrees and flowers and some garden crops were nipped. Halley had a warm 36 degrees, a whole degree warmer than Twin Falls. No damage was reported at Halley and little in the Twin Falls area. A light frost hit some apple orchards but growers claim that does the fruit good.

Shoshone was the warmest community in the valley during the night. The lowest recorded temperature was 33 degrees. Jerome was next with 30 degrees.

One fruit grower in the Hagerman valley reported a low of 33 but the Lower Salmon power plant reported only 45 degrees. The plant, however, is in a protected area. Some Hagerman residents said to-morrow plants received a slight touch of frost.

Rupert reported a low of 33 and no damage to crops, gardens or flowers.

Rupert's low was just under 32 and garden damage was spotty. The potato harvest has just started, but a week of cold nights would put it into full storage, the county agents advised.

France Asks Russ to Join Reich Talks

PARIS, Sept. 25 (U.P.)—France has decided to offer the Kremlin "normal new guarantees" against any possibility of a revival of German militarism, authoritative sources said today.

The decision was made in an effort to get the Soviet Union to agree to real negotiations for ending the cold war, these sources said.

According to the informants, the French cabinet approved the project and said it would be announced shortly by the French delegation to the United Nations general assembly in New York.

French Premier Joseph Laniel and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault worked out the plan, which, the sources said, would offer the Russians a chance of joining the French informal pact aimed at stopping any revival of the present German frontiers by force.

Also listed

The sources said the French project had these aims:

1. It gives the U.S. to Soviet proposals charges that the European defense community has aggressive designs against the "neutralists" and other anti-European army segments of French public opinion who claim the EDC will lead to a German domination of Europe.
2. It responds to the "neutralists" and other anti-European army segments of French public opinion who claim the EDC will lead to a German domination of Europe.
3. It replies to voiced Russian fears that Germany will at some future date spearhead a western movement against the Soviet empire.

Sparks Negotiations

If the Russians really are serious about wanting to settle the German question, the French sources said, the French guarantees would help provide a solid basis for negotiations.

"France, like Russia, fears the revival of a strong militaristic Germany," the sources said. "The French guarantees would help provide a solid basis for negotiations."

"But it is not all that simple," the sources said. "The French guarantees would help provide a solid basis for negotiations."

French Offer To Negotiate Asian Treaty

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 25 (U.P.)—France offered Friday to negotiate with the communists for peace in embattled Indo-China and suggested that the United States political conference be broadened to take on the task.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann also told the U.N. 60-nation general assembly that France would like to see the power to have the conference invite India to join in its work.

Schumann said that if the Korean conference didn't get around to the Indo-China problem, it might be taken up on a diplomatic level after the Korean conference.

Seek Normalcy

Such a negotiated peace in Indo-China, French Union forces in Indo-China, and the "normalization" of relations with the communists would "make it possible to look forward to the return of more normal conditions of international relations in Asia," he said.

"The French diplomat said he had heard 'unofficial declarations' from the communists that they were ready to negotiate on a basis of 'normalcy' and 'peace' with the French Union forces in Indo-China."

"This was a clear reference to the Soviet Union and communist China," he said. "The French diplomat said he had heard 'unofficial declarations' from the communists that they were ready to negotiate on a basis of 'normalcy' and 'peace' with the French Union forces in Indo-China."

U. S. to Make Investigation Of Turncoats

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (U. S. News)—The defense department says it will investigate the circumstances under which some former American prisoners in Korea reportedly made false confessions or turned informers to curry favor with red captors.

The department, Secretary Willson announced Thursday night, "is using every effort to investigate and establish what happened to these men while they were prisoners, the punishments and sufferings they endured, what false confessions some of them may have made under duress and the effect of the actions of some of them on their fellow prisoners."

Only Few Swayed

Commenting that only a few American prisoners were swayed by communist pressure and abuse while in captivity, Willson said:

"We do not as a general principle condone those who made false confessions contrary to the interests of their country, or whose actions caused their fellow prisoners added misery."

Examined in Sympathy

"Such cases will be carefully and sympathetically examined by the service concerned to ascertain whether in any of them there has been an unreasonable failure to measure up to the standards of individual conduct which is expected even of a prisoner of war or of a deserter from the standards of behavior prescribed by law."

Except to say the inquiries would be made on a confidential basis, Willson would be just and fair and in line with established facts and evidence and the rules, regulations and laws relating to military conduct, Willson did not specify how the investigation would be handled.

Meet to Talk Defense Plan

PRESTON, Sept. 25 (U. S. News)—A national defense plan will be discussed Saturday at a meeting of the Agricultural Producers Association.

"Food has helped win the last two world wars," said Ben B. Johnson, president of the association, "and it is likely to continue to be one of the major factors in any future war."

Johnson said farmers have been disappointed that action hasn't been taken before.

"It is our feeling that food should be placed on as high a priority as was material in the last world war," Johnson said, "especially in this atomic age. It is hard to understand why agriculture has been asked to wait all of 1933 without a definite farm program."

Johnson also declared that the law of supply and demand isn't working in the food industry.

"It is disheartening to read a recent statement from one of the U. S. departments of agriculture officials endorsing free trade," he added.

He told the house un-American activities committee yesterday in concluding a two-hour personal appearance that he plans to embark on a lecture tour and writing career. He appeared before the committee under heavy guard to protect him from possible communist reprisals.

Mrs. Nixon Sees Ambassador Role for Self in Jaunt to Asia

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—Pat Nixon said today she isn't going along on her husband's far eastern tour just for the ride. The Vice President's wife said she feels she too "has a job to do" as an unofficial good will ambassador to our Asiatic allies. The pretty blonde second lady of the land said she is "thrilled to death" about the 37,000-mile trip to 19 countries and "looking forward to talking to people from all walks of life."

But there is one drawback. She hates to leave the children. "It takes some of the joy out of the trip," she said. Mrs. Nixon already has altered the little girl's 7-year-old dress and 5-year-old Julie, that "Nana and Grandpa," Mrs. Nixon's parents are coming home from Whittier, Calif., to take care of them. "Talking to a reporter in the living room, Mrs. Nixon said she realizes the plane hopping from Manila to Karachi and other points east is going to be a "hard trip." But she doesn't mind because "I've always wanted to travel."

Tariff Panel Sets Study of Metals Crisis

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (U.P.)—The tariff commission today announced that it will hold public hearings early in November to determine whether changes should be made in tariffs on lead and zinc imports.

A hearing on the lead situation opens Nov. 8; another on zinc on Nov. 8.

The house ways and means committee earlier this year directed the commission to make a general investigation of the lead and zinc industry and of the impact of imports on the domestic industry and on consumers.

Pacts obtained at the hearing will be presented to the committee for use in studying tariff legislation.

Later the national lead and zinc commission requested the commission to hold a hearing to determine whether increased imports of lead and zinc have resulted in a trade agreement concessions to a point where serious injury to the domestic industry is threatened.

In event the commission finds such injury is being done domestically it could recommend to President Roosevelt modification of concessions for imposition of import quotas. The President then would make the decision.

Tariff commission officials told a reporter the lead and zinc industry has been concerned because of increased lead and zinc imports and because of a drop in price for the two metals in the United States.

Some operators contend they are unable to operate mines profitably and that some mines have been closed.

Mild Winter Seen In Eastern Idaho

IDAHO FALLS, Sept. 25 (U.P.)—Mrs. Ruth R. McCoy, Rigby, forecasts a rather mild winter for eastern Idaho this year.

The prediction is no guess. Mrs. McCoy says she has always known the weather ahead by the texture of her corn tassels.

The Rigby woman said that if the corn tassels are silky, it will be an open winter.

She recalled that her corn tassels were silky before last winter's rather mild weather.

This year the corn tassels are even more silky and she should have a comparatively nice winter, Mrs. McCoy added.

Doctor Friend Helps Hank on Readers' Questions on Dogs

By HENRY McLEMORE
 This is National Dog week and as usual we have visiting Dr. Dr. Sigmond Leach, one of the world's most distinguished canine psychologists, analysts, and psychiatrists.

Dr. Leach, whose book, "Wine, Women and Dogs," has long been a best-seller, has been spending National Dog week in Twin Falls.

On the chance that for once he would be in an agreeable mood, we asked the doctor if he would be gracious enough to answer some of the problems dog owners have written to me about in the past.

Question: Is it normal for a miniature schnauzer to sleep on the mantelpiece? Since our Fritzke learned to leap from the sofa to the television to the mantel, she has slept anywhere else—J. U. C. Miam.

Answer: Hoopday, in his "Beer, Girls and Puppies," says: "The desire of dogs to sleep on mantelpieces is caused by a feeling of insecurity and can only be cured by convincing the animal that his future is amply provided for." This is best done by suggesting a saving account book from his collar and stamping his social security number in a prominent place in his kennel.

Question: Is it true that basshounds are used for plowing in some Central American countries?—J. P. O. Butte.

Answer: No. But I have heard of basshounds being used for plowing in some Central American countries. I have heard of them being used for plowing in some Central American countries.

Question: Our dog is always stands up when the "Star Spangled Banner" is played on the radio or television and attempts to nip us if we don't stand too. My aunt, who lives with us, is deaf and has taken to wearing cavity boots in the living room. This is embarrassing when we have company. Any suggestions?—C. W. O. Bradenton, Fla.

Answer: Your doggie is to be commended. Why not have members of your family take turns in poking your aunt when the national anthem is played?

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

When a prematurely born child is old enough to go to school, he may not be as alert mentally and physically as other children of his age. Usually, he will need time to catch up with his classmates, but he should be encouraged to keep in step with the others.

Such a child perhaps is sent to school at the standard age at 5 to 6 years. If he does not do well there, he may be sent on to the first grade. During the kindergarten period little pressure is put on him. He has the freedom of movement, and the encouragement a group of happy youngsters lend one another.

In the first grade, however, he is likely to be in a difficult situation. What is tantamount to driving is put on him for specific reasons. He may be wanted to work in a set pattern to move under direction. Such a child may not have the strength or the staying power for this.

He may seem dull, retarded and slow, because he has not yet had time for proper development. He may seem dull, retarded and slow, because he has not yet had time for proper development. He may seem dull, retarded and slow, because he has not yet had time for proper development.

MARCIANO KEEPS TITLE; KO'S GAME LASTARZA IN ELEVENTH

Spattered Challenger Down Under Terrific Fight; Referee Stops Bout

Sept. 25 (AP)—Rocky Marciano, crude and awkward in the early rounds, wore down LaStarza with raw animal power to stop the game, blood-spattered challenger in a technical knockout in 1:31 of the 11th round Thursday night in the defense of his world heavyweight championship.

Highest Fight-Rocky; Better-LaStarza
Sept. 25 (AP)—"I changed my style of fighting in the seventh round—otherwise I may never have won," Marciano described his 11th round victory over Roland LaStarza Thursday night to retain his world championship.

He was going for the knockout in the eighth round, I felt I was in a bit of a jam, so I said to myself, 'Well, I'm not going to win this fight by a knockout, but I can win it by a decision.' So I changed my style of fighting in the seventh round—otherwise I may never have won."

Coast League Buys Seals From Fagan
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25 (AP)—The San Francisco Seals baseball club became the property of the Pacific Coast League Thursday in a history-making transaction in which ownership of the franchise and player contracts were sold for an unannounced price.

Paul J. Fagan, millionaire owner of the team, announced the sale at a press conference. Eddie Mulligan, president of the Sacramento club, represented the Seals and explained some of the details.

While the purchase terms were not disclosed, Fagan said the Seals, who asked not to be named, played the franchise at $100,000. Last May when Fagan first offered to sell the franchise and players he asked $250,000.

The league also took a five-year lease on Seals stadium, modern open park which seats 22,180. Under the terms of the lease, the Seals will receive 10 cents from each paid admission. The league will pay for upkeep and taxes, the latter amounting to $33,000 a year.

Office workers and other employees will be retained. Fagan said he was acclimated for managing a weak team into fifth place this season, which he had to do.

As league representative, Mulligan appointed the club's general manager, Dan Miller, custodian of the new PCL property. Miller was instructed to form a holding corporation to take over the franchise and players to private enterprise.

If the club is not sold before next season opens, the league will pay the operating expenses. About 10 players, some of whom have been farmed out to smaller leagues, were involved in the sale.

Among those who have been named as possible purchasers are Bing Crosby, and the combination of the Dallas Cowboys and the Dallas Cowboys, O'Doul, O'Doul, who managed the Seals for 17 years and now pilots the San Diego team.
